Overview
Friday, March 12, 2010
8 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

This unique conference will highlight representatives from the United States Department of Agriculture’s (USDA) Agricultural Research Service (ARS) – one of the world’s premier scientific research organizations. The day will feature technologies and projects of researchers brought together to provide opportunities for commercialization for environmental, energy and food-related businesses.

The objective of this Showcase is to connect businesses either currently engaged in the production of one of targeted topics or has the potential to license an advanced technology for economic gain or job growth. By partnering organizations with research and industry, commercialization can be achieved and the food and agricultural industry will maintain its role as a significant contributor to Ohio’s economy.
