Annual Report

Review of 2010

Department of Public Safety

An EF-2 tornado that hit the Wooster Campus brought OSU's first "Declaration of a Campus Emergency" to any OSU campus.

Nondiscrimination Policy

The policy of The Ohio State University, both traditionally and currently, is that discrimination against any individual for reasons of race, color, creed, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, handicap, or Vietnam-era veteran status is specifically prohibited. Accordingly, equal access to employment opportunities, admissions, educational programs, and all other university activities is extended to all persons, and the university promotes equal opportunity through a positive and continuing affirmative action program.

Message from the Public Safety Director

I want to welcome you to the Wooster campus of The Ohio State University, home of the Agricultural Technical Institute and the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center. The OSU properties in Wayne County represent the largest geographic operations of the entire University. Ohio State ATI is the largest institution of its kind in the U.S. and is ranked Number 1 in the nation among two-year schools in the awarding of degrees in agriculture and related sciences. 2010 was a very trying year as the campus found itself in the path of tornado which caused extensive damage to the OARDC portion of the campus. Especially hard hit was the Secret Arboretum which lost thousands of trees, many over 100 years old. Although the loss of the trees and damage to facilities and research was a setback, the fact that no serious injuries or fatalities occurred was truly a miracle. We are thankful for the emergency response provided by community and state resources and I'm especially proud of the dedication and service provided during the extended response by the officers of our police division.

I hope the information contained in this annual report will be useful and help you have a better understanding of safety issues at the Wooster campus. Please contact our department if you need further information or clarification for the material contained in this booklet.

Sincerely,

Greg K. Ferrell
Assistant Chief of Police, The Ohio State University
Public Safety Director, Wooster Campus

The Jeanne Clery Campus Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Act

Legal Requirements

The Campus Security Act requires colleges and universities to:

- publish an annual report every year by October that contains three years of campus crime statistics and certain campus security policy statements;
- disclose crime statistics for the campus, public areas immediately adjacent to or running through the campus, and certain non-campus facilities and remote classrooms. The statistics must be gathered from campus police or security, local law enforcement, and other University officials who have “significant responsibility for student and campus activities;”
- provide “timely warning” notices of those crimes that have occurred and pose an ongoing “threat to students and employees;” and
- disclose in a public crime log “any crime that occurred on campus. . . or within the patrol jurisdiction of the campus police or the campus security department and is reported to the campus police or security department.”

The Ohio State University Police is responsible for preparing and distributing this report. We work with other departments and agencies to compile the information. We encourage members of the campus community to use this report as a guide for safe practices on and off campus. It is available on the Web at: www.police.osu.edu/wooster or additional paper copies can be obtained by contacting the University Police at 330-287-0111 or at: police-wooster@osu.edu

The OSU Police Station sustained damage from being in the path of the September 16th tornado resulting in the police being housed elsewhere for seven months.

UNIVERSITY POLICE

University police officers are designated by statute as law enforcement officers for the University. They are empowered to use investigative authority on reasonable suspicion of crime, to search and arrest as authorized by law, and to use reasonable and necessary force to enforce the law and protect property. University police enforce laws regulating underage drinking, use of controlled substances, weapons and perform other duties requiring police assistance. They initiate police incident reports, investigate traffic crashes and assist in response to fires and medical emergencies. University police officers must take an oath of office and meet all certifications and requirements set forth by the Ohio Revised Code and the Ohio Peace Officer Training Commission.

The Wooster campus police station is located at 1727 Williams Drive, in the historic Simon Rice House. Staffing includes an assistant chief, sergeant, and three officers plus five part-time officers. Personnel are trained in First Aid and CPR, and three officers are certified Emergency Medical Technicians. The University police are the primary responsible law enforcement agency for University owned and operated properties and provide daily patrols and twenty-four hour on call service. In addition, a close cooperation has been developed with the Wooster Post of the State Highway Patrol. The Patrol provides dispatch services and their post is located on campus grounds.

With the central portion of the campus located in the City of Wooster, the OSU Police also have a mutual aid agreement with the Wooster Police. This arrangement enhances working relationships between the two departments which benefits the campus and local community in terms of crime prevention and emergency response. A similar agreement is also in place with the Wayne County Sheriff's Office.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

While an attempt is made to provide the most secure surroundings possible without impeding the academic mission of the campus, all employees, students, and visitors must take some responsibility for their own personal safety. Although campus safety is enhanced through lighting, police patrols, emergency blue light phones and awareness programs, crime does occur. University police publishes crime statistics so that students, faculty, staff and visitors will be aware of the potential for crime. We subscribe to the philosophy that publicizing crime and public safety information will help make the campus safer.

REPORTING CRIME

Prompt, accurate reporting of crimes or suspicious incidents is encouraged. Crimes or suspicious activity should be reported directly to the University police at 330-287-0111. Emergencies can be reported by dialing 9-1-1 twenty four hours a day. Emergency call boxes are also located throughout campus and can be identified by the blue light. By pushing the button, you will be in telephone contact with a dispatcher and the blue light will begin to strobe to help pinpoint your location to responding emergency personnel.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Ohio's public records law (Ohio Revised Code § 149.43) does not permit the university to promise confidentiality to those who report crimes to anyone except counselors at Student Success Services, or under certain circumstances, to a physician or nurse. Some off-campus reports also may be legally confidential, e.g. reports to clergy or health care professionals. Reports that are confidential by law will not be reported to the University for inclusion in the annual crime statistics report. Because of the requirements of public records laws, and counselor, medical professional and clerical confidentiality, The Ohio State University does not have a policy that permits confidential reporting of crimes to these individuals for inclusion in the annual crime statistics report.

SECURITY AWARENESS AND CRIME PREVENTION PROGRAMS

The University Police Division is active in crime prevention and liaison activities. Presentations are available and often provided on Rape Awareness and Education, Alcohol and Drug Abuse, Driving While Under the Influence, Driver Safety, Personal Safety and Crisis Intervention. Officers also provide an overview at Student and Parent Orientations, Student Housing programs and other initiatives including Security Surveys, UV/ID, Campus Crime Watch and other items relative to public safety. In addition to the services provided by University police, other campus and community agencies are actively involved in crime prevention, counseling, and safety related services:

Theft Prevention

The most frequent of campus crimes is theft. Student Affairs Risk Assessment has a program to mark your valuables with invisible ink. The UV/ID project is supported by various offices with materials available from residence hall RAs and the University Police. Marking your property will help to establish ownership as well as promote recovery if an item is lost or stolen.

Vehicles such as the patrol cars in this photo provide routine patrols as well as first response for all emergencies on campus. In the background is the Wayne County mobile command center.

TIMELY WARNING POLICY

A campus crime alert is provided to give students, faculty and staff timely notification of crimes that may present a threat to the campus community and to heighten safety awareness. The alert also seeks information that may lead to arrest and conviction of the offender when violent crimes against persons or major crimes against property have been reported to the police. The Ohio State University at Wooster will prepare a campus crime alert when a crime is reported to or brought to the attention of the Ohio State University Police Department and that crime represents a threat to the safety of members of the campus community. The Buckeye Alert system will be activated if circumstances involve imminent danger to public safety. Otherwise, every attempt will be made to distribute the alert within 12 hours of the time the incident is reported, however, the release is subject to the availability of accurate facts concerning the incident. Alerts are distributed via e-mail to on-campus offices, residence halls and libraries as well as printed postings in common areas, campus newsletters, and on the police web page.

TIMELY WARNING

Whenever a report of a violent crime against a person or a particularly threatening crime against property on campus that represents an ongoing danger to the safety of students, faculty and staff is received, the Ohio State University Police at Wooster will prepare a campus crime alert. Alerts will be dated and provide details of the crime, a description of the suspect if known, and information on who to contact about the investigation, and often crime prevention tips. Crime alerts will be widely distributed throughout campus, provided to campus media, posted on the Wooster Campus Police website, when possible, and e-mailed as quickly as possible to select university offices. If the Wayne County Sheriff's Office or City of Wooster Police issues a news release about an off-campus crime that represents an ongoing threat to the safety of students, faculty, and staff, the university will assist in publicizing the crime on campus. Information included in campus crime alerts:

1. A succinct statement of the incident
2. Possible connection to previous incidents, if applicable
3. Physical description of the suspect
4. Composite drawing of the suspect, if available
5. Date and time the bulletin was released
6. Other relevant and important information.

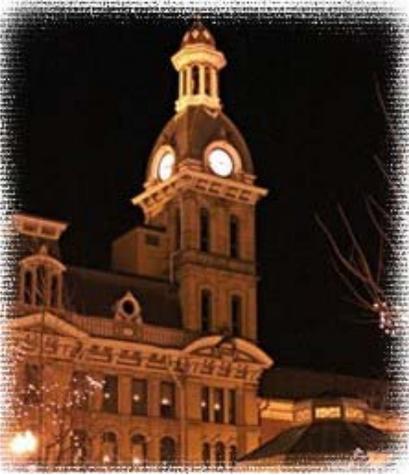

SEXUAL OFFENSES

Sexual assaults, including date/acquaintance rape, are a very serious concern of the University Police. Sexual assault survivors are encouraged to preserve physical evidence and contact the police, hospital, campus counselor, or Every Woman's House to get assistance. It is the policy of the OSU Police to provide the following to survivors of sexual offenses:

1. We will meet with you privately, at a place of your choice in this area, to prepare a police report.
2. We will not release your name to the public or to the press during the course of the criminal investigation, without your consent.
3. Our officers will not prejudge you, and you will not be blamed for what occurred.
4. We will treat you and your particular case with courtesy, sensitivity, dignity, understanding, and professionalism.
5. If you feel more comfortable talking with a female or male officer, we will do our best to accommodate your request.
6. We will assist you in arranging for any hospital treatment or other medical needs, including transportation to a local hospital with a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner.
7. We will assist you in privately contacting counseling, advocates, and other available resources.
8. We will fully investigate your case and will help you to achieve the best outcome. This may involve the arrest and full prosecution of the person responsible. You will be kept up-to-date on the progress of the investigation and/or prosecution.
9. We will continue to be available for you to answer questions, explain the processes involved (prosecutor, courts, campus judicial, etc.) and to be a listening ear if you wish.
10. The University may assist the survivor with changes in academic and on-campus living arrangements if desired and if available.
11. We will consider your case seriously regardless of your or any suspect's race, color, creed, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, or Vietnam era veteran status.

The responsibility for tracking persons in Ohio who have been designated as Sexual Predators is assigned to the sheriffs of the various counties. The following web site contains information regarding sexual predators for geographic areas covered by this report: <http://waynecountysheriff.com/sexoffenders.htm>

JUDICIAL PROCESS – SEXUAL OFFENSES

Upon the completion of an investigation of a sexual offense reported to the University Police, several things could happen. First, the case would be submitted to the Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney's Office for review. If the proper elements and evidence are present, the Prosecutor may pursue criminal charges against the suspect. At this point, the case would then proceed as any other criminal complaint before the court. The survivor may be required to testify, but will have support available through Every Woman's House, Victim's Assistance, and the continued support of the police division. In the event there is not enough evidence to proceed with a criminal case, or the survivor does not want to pursue a criminal case, other action may be taken. If the suspect is a student, he or she may be charged with a violation of the Code of Student Conduct and be subject to a campus Judicial Hearing. If a student is found in violation of the Code of Student Conduct, one or more sanctions could apply which could lead to the suspension or dismissal from The Ohio State University. The University may also immediately suspend a student who constitutes a clear danger to the University community or creates a substantial risk of injury to any person. Upon completion of the campus judicial process, both the accused and accuser will be notified of the outcome of the hearing. If the alleged offender is not a student, further civil action may be available to the survivor or the University. It should also be noted, that criminal prosecution and University judicial action may be jointly or separately taken against a student. This does not present double jeopardy.

For further information on the campus judicial process and the rights of the students involved, including who may be present in the hearings, please consult the Office of Student Life.

NOTABLE POLICIES

Alcohol

We value and promote an alcohol-free environment, but we recognize alcoholic beverages may be available at some campus activities. Such activities are consistent with the University's values when they foster moderation and safety in alcohol consumption. The University prohibits the illegal use of alcohol and complies fully with federal, state and local regulations regarding the sale, possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages. All members of the University community are held responsible for their behavior and for respecting the rights of others. The University is committed to providing the community with education as it relates to the consumption of alcohol in general and in particular, as it relates to high risk alcohol use. We provide programs, support and resources that promote making health-enhancing experiences a priority.

Drugs

Unlawful possession, use, production, distribution, or sale of alcohol or other drugs by any faculty, staff, or student is prohibited on university property or as any part of university activities. This policy is created to comply with the Drug-Free School and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 (Public Law 101-226), which requires that the university show it has adopted and implemented a program to prevent the illicit use of drugs and the abuse of alcohol by faculty, staff, and students, and to set forth the standards to provide a community setting that is safe, healthy, and productive for all faculty, staff, and students of The Ohio State University. The university distributes this policy annually throughout the university community and this includes information about referral and treatment, applicable laws and sanctions, and current assessments of possible health risks. A full copy of the University Drug Free Policy can be viewed at: <http://oardc.osu.edu/police/Pages/info.htm>

Workplace Violence

The Ohio State University is committed to providing faculty, staff, and students with an environment that is safe, secure and free from threats, intimidation and violence. This includes providing a supportive workplace in which employees can discuss workplace and family and relationship violence occurring in their lives and seek assistance with those concerns. Our goal is to provide a workplace in which violence of any kind is neither tolerated nor excused. To promote an atmosphere that encourages learning and productive employment, quick responsive action will be taken if violence or the threat of violence arises. Students who are not employees are covered by the Code of Student Conduct.

Each student who resides in on-campus housing may register confidential contact information to be notified in the event the student is determined to be missing. Student contact information will be registered confidentially, will be accessible only to authorized university officials and may not be disclosed except to law enforcement personnel in furtherance of a missing person investigation.

In addition, the following university officials or their designees will be notified:

- Vice President for Student Life
- Assistant Vice President for Student Life (Chief Housing Officer)
- Director, Risk and Emergency Management

If a missing student is under 18 years of age and is not emancipated, Ohio State is required to notify his or her custodial parent or guardian within 24 hours after the student is determined to be missing, in addition to notifying any additional contact person designated by the student.

CAMPUS FACILITIES

During Autumn, Winter, and Spring Quarters, Halterman Hall and Skou Hall are open from 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Summer Quarter hours for campus facilities will be posted at a later date. Ohio State ATI offices are open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily (closed weekends and holidays). OARDC buildings are usually open during normal weekday business hours but certain restrictions for admittance may apply. It is recommended that individual departments be contacted for further information. Building security on campus is controlled by key or card access. Under state law, smoking inside buildings is prohibited. Also, firearms, rather a person has a conceal carry permit or not, are prohibited on University property and it's unlawful to bring them into any University building. University policy also prohibits bicycles, skateboards, or rollerblades inside buildings. There are no off campus facilities for student organizations.

HOUSING

In 2010, The OSU Office of Student Life and University Residences provided on-campus housing for nearly 450 residents and 10 Graduate Families. There are 10 Resident Assistants (RAs) and one Resident Manager (RM) that lives on each of the occupied streets within the Applewood Village. The ATI Housing Coordinator is a full-time employee that also lives in the Village and is on call in the event of an emergency or crisis situation 24 hours a day. For personal safety and the overall wellbeing of the Applewood Village community, all residents are advised to adhere to the policies and regulations set forth in the University Housing Handbook and the Student Code of Conduct. Residents must also abide by the Housing Contract Terms and Conditions which promote safety of residents while living on campus. Key control for residents of Applewood Village is maintained through ATI Housing Office. Additional access may be approved for members of the ATI Housing Office and OSU Police. Student staff is trained by various faculty and staff, including a session with the University police. Housing staff provide street meetings and other programs that address many issues including safety, security, drugs and alcohol, common courtesy, and other important topics. The overall outcome for these efforts is to encourage students to live in a community that is safe and proactive

The previous regulations required institutions to report as hate crimes any occurrence of criminal homicide, sex offenses, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, motor vehicle theft, arson and any other crime involving bodily injury reported to local law enforcement agencies or a campus security authority that manifest evidence that the victim was intentionally selected because of the perpetrator's bias. The current regulations added the crimes of larceny-theft, simple assault, intimidation, and destruction/damage/vandalism of property to the list of crimes that must be reported in hate crime statistics. Below are definitions of these reportable offenses:

Destruction/Damage/Vandalism of Property

To willfully or maliciously destroy, damage, deface, or otherwise injure real or personal property without the consent of the owner or the person having custody or control of it.

JURISDICTION OF OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY POLICE

The map below depicts the central campus of The Ohio State University at Wooster. This is the "On-Campus" area as reported in the previous crime statistic tables. With the exception of the Residence Hall, the area west of Madison Avenue and south of Dover Road is private property. The rest of the area is University property and the responsible law enforcement agency is The Ohio State University Police. The other areas are within the jurisdiction of the Wooster Police Department and the Wayne County Sheriff.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Police Division provides a variety of community oriented services throughout the year to faculty, staff and students.

★Merit Award★

Several of the police officers of the Wooster campus received the OSU Department of Public Safety University Police Division Merit Award for their rapid, professional and extended response to the September 16th tornado that struck the campus and local community.

OFFICE OF ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH AND SAFETY

The Environment Health and Safety Office (EHS) is part of the Department of Public Safety at Wooster. The EHS Office assists in providing and maintaining a safe and healthful work environment for faculty, staff, students, vendors, contractors and visitors. The EHS Office approaches safety problems through accident investigations, recommendations, development of safety procedures, and development of safety protocols and presentation of safety educational training programs. Our objective is the protection of life and property by reducing and controlling incidents involving fires, occupational diseases, hazardous materials, explosions, or human error. We also strive to protect the local community and environment from potential hazards generated by the Wooster campus activities and ensure compliance with federal, state and local requirements. Although responsibility for administering the Wooster Campus safety program is assigned to the EHS Office, the success of this program is dependent on all members of the campus community. Safety at any location is not the exclusive responsibility of any one employee, the Director, the EHS Office, the Environmental Safety Committee or its Chairman. The Environmental Safety Committee exists to coordinate the comprehensive and continuing accident prevention efforts by the departments within the Wooster campus in meeting their responsibilities. Everyone has a responsibility for their safety and the safety of those they are in contact or work with. The safety responsibility of faculty, staff and students is in direct relationship to their own responsibility.

Safety Officer

DAILY CRIME LOG

The OSU Police at Wooster maintains a daily log that records by number, date, general campus location, officer assigned, nature of incident, and status of all criminal and non-criminal reports received. The most current log is available for review at the station. Full years can be viewed at our web site: <http://www.oardc.ohio-state.edu/police/Pages/info.htm>

The department reserves the right to exclude reports from the log or certain information, especially as it may affect an on-going criminal investigation.

The ATI Applewood Student Apartment Village, which does not have a fire alarm system, is a townhouse type complex with individual exterior apartment doors for each unit. There are multiple smoke detectors in all the apartments. Open flames (candles, etc.) are prohibited in student housing. Students are provided evacuation procedures and related fire safety information through University Housing offices. For more information, visit their web site at: <http://housing.osu.edu/ati.asp>

Emergency Notification and Procedures

The Department of Public Safety assumes the role of issuing emergency notifications to the campus community. As defined, an emergency notification is the process of immediately notifying the campus community upon the confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on campus.

OSU will, without delay, and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system or systems, unless issuing a notification will, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise the efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate an emergency.

Emergency notifications are initiated by either the Assistant Vice-President of Public Safety, Director of Emergency Management, or Chief of Police or his designee.

The process of issuing an emergency notification begins by confirming there is a significant emergency or dangerous situation. Public Safety personnel verify information and the existence of a significant emergency or dangerous situation. This occurs by collecting and assimilating information from firsthand accounts, from uniformed officers in the field, and through the use of surveillance technologies such as alarm systems. Alarm systems are monitored by the Department of Public Safety 24 hours a day, 7 days a week..

Upon verification, dispatch personnel contact leadership within the Department of Public Safety to pass along specific information about the emergency or dangerous situation. Once the Department of Public Safety determines the event's significance and the populations it may impact, leadership begins the process of issuing emergency notifications.

The Department of Public Safety is responsible for determining the content of an emergency notification; the content of a notification is determined based on the circumstances the manner in which the situation is impacting campus. The content of the notification message is designed to provide instruction to the OSU community that promotes the safety and well being of those impacted. At times, messages may simply contain information about an area of campus to avoid. At other times, messages may have specific protective action recommendations or information about the nature of the incident itself. A message may be directed to the entire campus community or to specific areas or segments of the campus depending on the nature of the incident. The content is specifically crafted based upon the needs of individuals on campus and the situation at hand. It is designed to help protect individuals from harm and to prevent an incident from escalating into a more complex emergency that could potentially impact more of the campus community.

Upon determination of the notifications content, systems utilized to transmit emergency notifications are selected and activated to deliver the desired content relating to the emergency onto the end user within the OSU community.

Delivery of an emergency notification may occur within minutes of the initial confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation depending upon the time of day, the methods chosen to disseminate information, and the successful activation and performance of technologies used to issue notifications.

Emergency Notification Systems

General Information

In the event of an emergency, the Department of Public Safety will determine the appropriate emergency notification systems to be used to deliver the emergency notification message to the campus community. OSU may use any or all communication resources to disseminate information depending on the nature of the emergency and the surrounding circumstances.

Information pertaining to incidents and emergencies on campus will be disseminated to the larger public via media organizations through University Communications, Wooster campus administration or individuals involved in emergency response on campus as designated by the Assistant Vice-President of Public Safety.

Buckeye Alert is a simple, reliable way to send and broadcast messages to as many students, faculty, and staff as possible, as quickly as possible. Buckeye Alert is an emergency notification system that will send a text message alert to a registered user's cell phone in the event of an emergency.

Buckeye Alerts are designed for all-hazards emergency notifications. Buckeye Alert works with any cell phone and requires no installation of hardware or software. Buckeye Alert is currently an opt-in system that requires self-registration by visiting www.buckeyealert.osu.edu

Crime Alerts are issued by OSU Police. These alerts are distinct from Buckeye Alerts and pertain only to crimes committed on campus. OSU encourages all students, faculty, and staff to sign up for both Crime Alerts and Buckeye Alerts to remain informed of crime activity and emergencies on campus.

Buckeye Alerts: www.buckeyealert.osu.edu

Crime Alerts: https://www.ps.ohio-state.edu/police/crime_alerts/

Bulk Email Alerts

A mass e-mail can be sent to everyone who has an e-mail account on the OSU.edu system. This e-mail is distributed by the Internal Communications office upon notification.

This e-mail would be accessible to any account holder whether they are accessing it from on campus or remotely.

Websites

An emergency message can be posted on the front page of the OSU website, the Wooster campus websites of Ohio State ATI, Ohio State OARDC and OSU Police. While the websites are not designed to be the primary notification method, many individuals rely solely upon this method for communications.

www.ati.osu.edu/

www.oardc.osu.edu/centernet/

www.police.osu.edu/wooster

OSU Emergency Management can also utilize its webpage, www.emergency.osu.edu, to provide information and updates to the campus community.

Media Outlets

The Wooster campus administration in collaboration with Public Safety, and University Relations, will provide advisories to the media through a formal media advisory, a news release, or in response to media inquiries.

Once the activation of mass communication system is initiated and the public becomes aware of a situation occurring at the University, the media often begins to inquire about the nature of the emergency. OSU will provide relevant information to the media to help ensure that the campus community and the public are informed about the emergency.

Emergency Evacuations

Campus Evacuation

To protect our campus population from the effects of emergencies, protective action recommendations or evacuation instructions may be issued by the Department of Public Safety and other emergency response authorities (e.g., Wooster Fire Department). These instructions may order evacuations for individual buildings or areas of campus, or they could be campus wide.

If an evacuation of the entire OSU campus is ordered by public safety officials, it is important to follow evacuation instructions disseminated through the communication systems used to inform the campus of an emergency. It is likely that traffic routes may be altered, that some areas of campus may already be inaccessible, and that travel off-campus may require the use of alternate transportation or other arrangements.

It is important to remember that evacuations are issued only if the safety and well being of the OSU community is at serious risk. OSU asks that you work together and assist each other during evacuations, and that you follow all instructions and guidance from University officials and first responders.

Building Evacuations

Building-specific evacuation procedures vary by building. We encourage all individuals on campus to familiarize themselves with evacuation procedures in the buildings they occupy. Specific evacuation information can be obtained from posted procedures, or by requesting a copy of the Building Emergency Action Plan from that building's Building Coordinator.

If assistance is required to learn more about building-specific evacuation procedures, please contact the Environmental Health and Safety Office at 330-263-3663 or the OSU Police at 330-287-0111.

Testing and Exercises

Exercises designed to test OSU's emergency procedures and preparedness are conducted at least annually at OSU and may be conducted in the form of a drill, tabletop, functional, or full scale exercise. These exercises often include OSU personnel but also surrounding jurisdiction first responders and government agencies, as well as members of the OSU community. The Department of Public Safety documents a description of each exercise as well as the date and time of the exercise and information about whether the test was announced or unannounced.

Testing of the Buckeye Alert system typically occurs bi-annually but may occur at more frequent intervals at the discretion of OSU Department of Public Safety. These tests may be announced or unannounced.

In addition to fire drills at the ATI Residence Hall, evacuation drills are conducted annually at the academic and research facilities on the Wooster campus.

The Enterprise Continuity Management program maintains and implements the Building Emergency Action Plan (BEAP). The BEAP is a unit-specific plan that addresses procedures for building evacuations for incidents related to all hazards, including fire incidents. These plans are updated annually, publicized within units and departments on-campus, and tested in a manner that is either announced or unannounced at the preference of each unit.

Building Emergency Action Plans are publicized to affected units in conjunction with evacuation drills conducted for those units. Additionally, OSU's Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan is publicized on an annual basis. For further information about OSU's emergency response and evacuation procedures, please visit www.emergency.osu.edu or contact the Division of Emergency Management and Fire Prevention at 614-247-4911.
