ACADEMIC ADVISING SUMMIT

2016

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

Jayne Drake just retired from her roles as Vice Dean for Academic and Student Affairs, Director of the Master of Liberal Arts Program, and a Professor of English in the College of Liberal Arts at Temple University in Philadelphia, PA. As Vice Dean she was responsible for all academic matters, student services, programs, advising, and curricular initiatives for the College's undergraduate and graduate students. At Temple, she was honored to receive the Excellence in Teaching Award and Faculty Advisor of the Year Award.

Jayne is a former President of NACADA, and now chairs the Association's Academic Advising Consultants and Speakers Service and the Core Values Review Committee. She travels nationally and internationally to provide keynote addresses and to conduct workshops on a number of advising-related topics. She also serves as a consultant and reviewer to a number of universities regarding the development and reorganization of advising services. She has been published widely in the field of academic advising as well as in seventeenth- through nineteenth-century American literature, the history of printing and publishing in America, and American literary periodicals. She is humbled to be the recipient of NACADA's Virginia N. Gordon Award for Excellence in the Field of Advising and the Bobbie Flaherty Service to NACADA Award.
