

The Living Landscape Speaker Series

Join fellow gardeners and nature enthusiasts throughout January for a series of webinars given by some of the most prominent horticulture experts and scientists of our time.

All sessions are free via Zoom, but preregistration is required.

January 15, 2021, 10:00 a.m.

Doug Tallamy: Restoring Nature's Relationships at Home

January 22, 2021, 1:00 p.m.

Marne Titchenell: Enhancing Your Landscape for Birds and Other Wildlife

January 29th, 2021, 10:00 a.m.

Debra Knapke: Eco-Conscious Gardening: From Concept to Design

February 6th 10:00 a.m.

Rick Darke: Dynamic Design and The Art of Observation

Register online at

<https://go.osu.edu/livinglandscape>

The Living Landscape Speaker Series is co-sponsored by OSU Entomology and The Chadwick Arboretum and Learning Garden, in cooperation with the Franklin County Master Gardener Volunteers and the Chadwick Arboretum and Learning Garden Volunteers.

Funding is provided in part by the Manitou Fund and NIFA's IPM Pollinator Health grant.

PARTNERS FOR POLLINATORS

Learn, Volunteer, Advocate and Grow for Bees, Butterflies and Hummingbirds