

Fairfield County 4-H Advisory Committee Application

The Fairfield County 4-H Advisory Committee is comprised of a representative group of Ohio State University Extension Fairfield County 4-H Volunteers. Members must be a current 4-H volunteer in good standing and will serve a three year term. The committee offers insight, review, and input for the operation and management of the Fairfield County 4-H Program and helps guide the 4-H program direction in concert with state and national 4-H policies. The committee meets face-to-face on a monthly basis (January, February, March, May, August, September, and November) and may utilize email to conduct committee business. Meetings are usually held on Thursdays.

Open recruitment for committee membership takes place each fall. Interested volunteers are invited to apply. Applications must be printed or typed. Applications are due by December 1st and submitted to the Fairfield County Extension Office at 831 College Avenue, Suite D, Lancaster, OH 43130.
