

THE RITZ-CARLTON

A luxury hotelier with a passion for enlivening The Ritz-Carlton culture, Steven Szenasi is currently the General Manager of The Ritz-Carlton, Paradise Valley. Born and raised in Hungary, Steven's career in hospitality began over twenty-five years ago when he received his degree in Hospitality Management and Culinary Studies in Budapest. Over the following two decades, Steven embraced the motto "We are Ladies & Gentlemen Serving Ladies & Gentlemen" and felt it his destiny to carry that forward. His celebrated career with The Ritz-Carlton has encompassed leadership positions at The Ritz-Carlton, Dove Mountain, The Ritz-Carlton, Bachelor Gulch and The Ritz-Carlton, Laguna Niguel. Steven earned a 4.0 Summa Cum Laude Bachelor's Degree in Management and Marketing at Pennsylvania State University. He is fluent in English, Hungarian, and German. In his spare time, he enjoys riding his Harley, exercising, and spending time with his two beloved Scottish Terriers Aspen and Coco.
