What we are learning this week:

Reading Workshop: We are working on mastering the first 100 Fry words.

Math Workshop: This week will continue to work on number sense. Help enforce these skills by finding numbers in the real world when you are out and about.

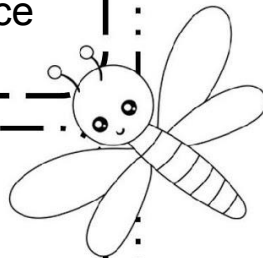

Social Studies: We are learning about community helpers. We are looking for community helpers to come speak with our class. Please let me know if you or a family member would like to come in.

Classroom
Requests:

We are in need of toothpicks and marshmallows for an upcoming science activity.
