Cultivating Awareness and Activating the Radical Activist within Administrative Professionals

Jasmine Marks

Director of Diversity & Inclusion at Equitas Health and Doctorate Student in Higher Education & Student Affairs at The Ohio State University

Jasmine C. Marks (she, her, hers) currently serves as the Director of Diversity & Inclusion at Equitas Health, where her work centers on the support and empowerment of minoritized populations, improving culture & climate, and cultivating inclusive policies and practices. Previously, Jasmine worked at Capital University Law School as the Associate Director of Diversity & Inclusion and Columbus State Community College as a Specialist in the Global Diversity & Inclusion Center. Jasmine is currently pursuing her Doctorate in Higher Education & Student Affairs from the Ohio State University and is a graduate of the 2020 YWCA Leadership for Social Change cohort.

Presentation Description:

Administrative Professionals play an essential role within higher education institution ecosystems and should be encouraged to be active participants in change. This presentation will increase participants' knowledge by traveling through our collective history to understand better the significance of movements that culminated in 2020. Ultimately, we will tie this knowledge to practical skills to apply in their daily work and life.
