P12 Partnership Inventory

The 2015 Ohio State P12 Partnership Inventory is underway. Anyone who manages P12 activities and programs is invited to complete the 10 minute survey at this link by October 30. Last year's survey covered 484 unique P12 programs across the state. This data assists the university in communicating its activities with Ohio schools and organizations that serve school age children and families.

Resources and Opportunities

Ohio State University Hiring Vice Provost for Outreach and Engagement

OSU invites nominations and applications for the new position of Vice Provost for Outreach and Engagement. The University seeks an innovative, dynamic, and entrepreneurial individual to lead it in developing the vision, crafting the mission, and defining the scope of a robust academic outreach and engagement presence. Ohio State defines academic outreach and engagement as the extension of its academic mission into the community, such that the community is engaged with Ohio State's faculty, staff, and students in the excitement of learning and its application for the benefit of that community.

James Madison University Hiring for Associate Vice Provost for Outreach and Engagement

James Madison University invites applications and nominations for a creative and forward thinking leader to serve in the position of Associate Vice Provost for Outreach & Engagement. O&E is a partially self-supporting unit that serves non-traditional students, offering access to higher education for multiple audiences. The mission of O&E is to provide access to anyone seeking opportunities for education or personal growth. The Associate Vice Provost is responsible for overseeing both credit and non-credit programs via diverse methods of delivery for JMU students and community members, as well as supporting economic development efforts throughout the Commonwealth. The AVP will be responsible for evaluating the current programs offered and recommending directions for strategic future growth.
