

1/1/1971 0:00:00	Ongoing	Coca-Cola Freestyle	Coca-Cola develops the freestyle machine. This machine replaces the traditional syrup "bag in the boxes" with cartidges. The interface on these machines are touch screen. The OS allows customers to create customized flavor cola with over 100 options of different flavors. (AV SP2015)	http://www.coca-colafreestyle.com/home/	Coca-Cola
1642	Ongoing	Coca-Cola iLearn	Coca-Cola partners with Americhip to create an iLearn tablet. This Coca-Cola exclusive tablet contains PDFs and training videos. The tablet is not touch screen but is functionable with several buttons. The media link contains a web version of the tablet. (AV SP2015)	http://www.ilearncoca-colafreestyle.com/	Coca-Cola
1820		Curta calculator	Curt Herzstark in 1938, The Curta calculator was the worlds first portable calculator. Resembling a fishing rod reel, the non-electronic device could add, subtract, multiply, and divide. Curta calculators dominated the office world until the arrival of electronic calculators in the 60s. (AV SP2015).	http://www.darkroastedblend.com/2008/09/stunni					calculator
1938	Ongoing	Bluetooth	The name Bluetooth was coined and started the early stages of developed by 5 companies. Bluetooth allows the pairing of two separate devices wirelessly. Bluetooth 1.0 would be released for computers the following year, however, it was not until 2000 when Bluetooth started to enter the mobile market. (AV SP2015)	http://www.bluetooth.com/Pages/History-					Bluetooth
1997	Ongoing	LiveText	LiveText is an program that provides educators with an online performance based assesment tool. Many universites use this tool to allow students to upload data so staff and faulty can monitor their progress. (AV SP2015).	https://www.livetext.com/aboutus/		LiveText About US	LiveText		Online Assements
1998	Ongoing	LiveScribe	LiveScribe is a smartpen that can record notetaking with specialiy designed paper and record audio at the sametime. Your handwriting can be uploaded as well the audio. The pen has a mircophone that can play the recorded audio on the special dot paper after you take your notes. (AV SP2015)	http://www.livescribe.com/en-us/	LiveScribe		LiveScribe
2000 B.C.	1/1/1971 0:00:00	Pubic Access Channel	George Stoney and Red Burns form a group know as the Alternative Media Center. Purpose of the group was to create a grassroots media collective that would enable members to submit their own forms of media. Eventually the group was able to lobby to congress to form what is know as the Public Access channels today. (AV SP2015)	http://about.tisch.nyu.edu/object/itp_histoi	NYU TISCH				Public Access
2007	Ongoing	Abacus Calculator	Egyptians and Sumerians starting using a tool constructed of rods and beads to count. This improved addition and subtraction for early accountants. (AV SP2015)	http://www.thecalculatorsite.com/articles/units/hi					Calculator
2013		Pascal	Blaise Pascal created the first mechanical calculator. He did this by making geared wheels that could add, subtract, divide, multiply, by repetition. His machine would later provide the basis for the Arithmometer. (AV SP2015)	http://www.thecalculatorsite.com/articles/units/hi					Calculator
2014		Arithmometer	Taking inspiration from Pascal's machine, Charles Xavier Thomas de Colmar, created the Arithmometer. The Arithmometer tweaked the repetitive problems of the Pascal and was able produce more functions. The Arithmometer was mass produced and was the size of a desktop computer. (AV SP2015)	http://www.britannica.com/EBchecked/top					Calculator